Alkanatur designs and manufactures filtering and alkalizing jugs, water filters for showers, kitchens, reverse osmosis products. This avoids the need to buy bottled water and therefore helps preserve the environment in addition to consuming electrolyte-free and chemical-free water.

DESCRIPTION

Alkanatur's history dates back years to its founding, in 2016. In the 1990s, a trip to Japan gave Alkanatur a new way of thinking. It was when Alkanatur discovered ionized alkalized water.

In Japan, alkalization and ionization equipment was declared as medical equipment suitable for certain therapies. They began to consume it, recommend it and its use spread to hospitals.

Alkanatur saw the need to manufacture quality equipment, an ecological product, without electrolytes or chemicals.

They marketed the first filtering and alkalizing jug, with European regulations. Its filters are ecological, sustainable and free of toxins.

Alkanatur carries out scientific studies at various universities and research centers. It is a team made up of people who are aware of natural health, environmental commitment, scientific research and with the aim of creating products that help improve personal well-being and the health of the planet.
