This turmeric spray has been formulated so that the turmeric can be absorbed directly into the bloodstream, thus avoiding processing through the gut. The micro-droplets generated by the spray are quickly absorbed by the oral membrane, allowing for rapid and effective absorption of the nutrients.

DESCRIPTION

Details

Curcumin, the active ingredient in turmeric, is not water-soluble (hydrophobic), making it difficult for our bodies to absorb through traditional digestive pathways. Curcuminoids clump together in the gut, making it difficult for them to pass through the intestines.

Turmeric oral spray overcomes the hydrophobic nature of turmeric by extracting the active curcuminoids from the turmeric root.

In a process we have called Cyclocurmin®, we encase them in a natural cyclodextrin process known as encapsulation, which makes the curcuminoid molecules water-soluble and prevents them from clumping together. A process borrowed from the pharmaceutical industry.

Importance of Turmeric

Turmeric has long been used in Indian and Chinese medicine. Supplementing turmeric via oral spray has several benefits:

Benefits at a glance

Bioavailability: Innovative spray delivery system that avoids the well-documented absorption problems of curcumin, thus avoiding the well-documented absorption problems of curcumin.

Molecular encapsulation: increases bioavailability through greater water solubility, improves taste and reduces staining.

Natural ingredients: Natural emulsifiers, flavours and sweetener (xylitol). This orange flavoured formula is suitable for both vegans and vegetarians.

They are then emulsified to create an evenly dispersed water-based solution for optimal absorption through the soft tissue of the mouth.

Harnessing the power of turmeric has never been easier. BetterYou Turmeric Oral Spray allows everyone
