Cobas Laboratory researches and develops food supplements for different diseases or pathologies, with the orthomol range it treats pathologies of the musculoskeletal system and with the symbioram range digestive pathologies. Cobas Laboratory treats different symptoms and pathologies, acid-base balance control, intestinal health, micronutrients, candidiasis, among others.

DESCRIPTION

Cobas Laboratory promotes responsible use of medicine from respect for the body and its natural biological processes. It covers symptoms and pathologies in different fields of medicine such as: PH control, intestinal health, regulation of neurotransmitters, micronutrients or candidiasis, among others.

By treating the microbiota we can influence general health: Restore the normal functionality of the intestine, re-educate the abnormal immune response, restore the normal production of neurotransmitters at the intestinal level.
