Both the toilet paper, tissues, napkins ... manufactured by the manufacturer Dalia, are made with renewable energy such as biomass and photovoltaic energy. For this reason, this manufacturer has obtained the certificate that gives it the highest possible score in sustainability.

DESCRIPTION

Likewise, the patented cardboard packaging is an excellent alternative to traditional plastic wrappings: in addition to being recycled and recyclable, it is very resistant.

On the other hand, it should be known that Dalia products use partially recycled fibers and free of chemical bleaching processes, unlike most of the paper derivatives currently on the market. That is why they have a very characteristic light brown color.
