DESCRIPTION

Properties and benefits of Passionflower dry extract 180mg

Passionflower is also known for its sedative and anti-anxiety effects, which consequently helps reduce nervousness and promote relaxation. This can be beneficial for those who have difficulty relaxing before sleeping due to stress or mental agitation.

It is also helpful for people who experience nighttime agitation, such as restless movements or frequent awakenings during the night. Unlike some sleeping medications, passionflower is not addictive.

Main features of Pasiflora 180 mg (dry ext.) tablets:

- Allergen-free product in accordance with Regulation (EU) No. 1169/2011.
- It does not contain gluten or lactose.
- With concentrated dry plant extract.
- Food supplement based on plant extract.
- Container for 30 days of use.
