Marjoram Food Supplement, promotes digestive function.

DESCRIPTION

Marjoram holds an important place among the spices used as a condiment in Mediterranean cuisine. This plant is also used in many liqueurs, in the preparation of food preserves and in perfumery. Its original aromatic characteristics are added to the properties of stimulating the secretion of gastric juices and awakening the appetite; in the intestinal tract, marjoram acts by normalizing the digestive processes, blocking fermentations, attenuating painful contractions.

Due to its sedative properties, marjoram is useful as a relief drink for all forms of intestinal pain, neuralgia, migraines; it has expectorant and slightly diuretic properties.

For external use, in vapors and inhalations, it is a good symptomatic remedy for colds as it helps to free the nasal cavity of mucus.

Contains essential oil (terpenols, camphene, borucol), rosmarinic acid, mineral salts.

Ingredients: Water, alcohol, Marjoram (Majorana hortensis Moench.) leaves 20%, honey.
