Muira Puama Food Supplement, Tonic. Antioxidant.

DESCRIPTION

Brazilians and inhabitants of areas bordering the Amazon rainforest use Múira puama as an energizer and in case of sexual fatigue.

The effect lasts for a long period of time.

The aromatic, reddish bark internally contains a special alkaloid, muirapuamine, as well as tannins, sitosterine, mild bitter substances and aromatic essential oils.

These agents have a tonic effect on the nervous system, promote digestion and contribute to the name "wood of potency", as its wood is very hard and capable of dissolving aortic blockages and traumas. The indigenous people of Amazonia use it against sterility.
