DESCRIPTION

Thanks to the active ingredients of Fenugreek, which contains a protein core rich in phosphorus and organic iron, and Cinchona, which contains quinidine and cinchonine, both plants have a tonic and anti-anemic action.

Rosa canina, or wild rose, contains tannins, resins, chlorophyll, malic and citric acid, pectins, and a large amount of vitamins, in particular A, B1, B2, Pp, K and C, and has highly vitaminizing and anti-inflammatory properties. Hippocrates and Galen recommended it for pulmonary tuberculosis, especially in the case of blood. It is called canine because its rhizome was formerly used to cure rabies, caused by bites from hydrophobic dogs.

Tamarisk, thanks to its principles, stimulates haemopoiesis and the functions of the spleen, and is therefore useful in anaemia, lymphocytosis, leucopenia and mononucleosis. Iron-Vitale® - Forza Vitale uses in its specific compounds mixtures obtained by a Spagyric-Alchemic elaboration, from plants characterised by a macrocosmic energetic signature, naturally containing traces of colloidal trace elements, in order to amplify the effect of the product on the specific organ or system concerned.

These naturally obtained food additives act as a support to transport the biochemical principles of the extract and guarantee the energetic stability of the Spagyric product.

Iron, or Mars, energetically stimulates the normal assimilation of iron introduced into the body through diet.
