Food supplement based on kombu, to stimulate the metabolism, and with serenoa repens to support the urinary tract.

DESCRIPTION

Benefits

Gianluca Mech's Slim Kombu Uomo is a unique formula that combines plants with tonic properties to offer a restorative action especially aimed at men. This product is designed to stimulate metabolism, combat fluid retention and localized fat in the abdomen, making it ideal for both slimming diets and for maintaining body weight.

The synergy of medicinal plants makes Slim-Kombu useful as an adjuvant in the treatment of cellulite imperfections (pineapple). Kombu and fucus are algae that promote metabolic stimulation, while pineapple and birch help drain excess fluids.

Kombu seaweed promotes metabolism stimulation, while saw palmetto supports prostate function.

Instructions for use

To fully enjoy the benefits of Slim Kombu Uomo, it is recommended to dilute between 30 and 60 ml of the product in 1.5 liters of water and consume throughout the day.

Decotopia is a method of processing and transforming medicinal plants into a liquid preparation with a centuries-old tradition.

Decotopiricos are food supplements that contain at least ten plants in liquid form, free of alcohol, sugar, preservatives and gluten.

They help maintain overall well-being by promoting the body's physiological functions.

Due to their numerous properties, they can be used for various needs, or even combined with the Tisanoreica dietary protocol.

You can drink them pure or diluted with water, alone or combined with each other.
