When parish priest Josef Hurst and pharmacist Dr. Eduard Hiepe from the idyllic village of Häg in the Wiesental valley in the southern Black Forest began producing the original TANNENBLUT® in the early 1920s, it is unlikely that either of them realised that this would become the basis for today's HÜBNER SCHWARZWALD TANNENBLUT®.

DESCRIPTION

Back then, TANNENBLUT® was developed as a way of caring for and taking responsibility for the health of textile workers in the Black Forest, who had to inhale harmful cotton dust every day during their work in the textile industry, often leading to bronchial diseases. Eduard Hiepe and Josef Hurst therefore set out to develop an affordable and easily absorbed remedy for the respiratory tract.

In a herbal book written by his famous colleague, Pastor Kneipp, the priest found a recipe for medicinal plants. He developed this recipe with Dr. Eduard Hiepe and together they strengthened their pharmaceutical knowledge. They expanded the recipe with special medicinal herbs from the Black Forest to create a high-quality natural medicine with real forest honey: "Parson Hurst's Tannen Balm". Soon, this product was not only relieving the pain of the many inhabitants of the Wiesental parish, where Pastor Hurst was from, but also helping to relieve the pain of the patients. Soon, knowledge of its healing power spread beyond the parish boundaries. The time had come for the birth of the original product of the ANTON HÜBNER company!
