DESCRIPTION

They produce their supplements at their own production facility in Donkerbroek, Friesland .

The quality and efficacy of the supplements are central to their approach (their products are FODMAP? certified by Monash University). They only use the ingredients necessary for the supplements to work, avoiding the inclusion of unnecessary additives. In this way, people can use their products without experiencing unwanted side effects, thus benefiting as many people as possible.

Their team of digestive health experts are always on hand to provide practical advice and provide additional information on food intolerances and their products. They understand how challenging living with food intolerances can be and are committed to helping people regain the joy of eating simply and effectively. Their mission is to pave the way to a more pleasurable dining experience.

Most people experience intestinal discomfort from time to time. However, when these annoyances persist, recur frequently, or become a recurring problem, it's time to address the situation. Digestive disorders are often caused by food intolerances, which can be a real challenge in daily life. For example, enjoying certain foods and the moments that accompany them can become difficult or even impossible. We are not ready to accept this as a reality, and we firmly believe that a pleasant life, even with food intolerances, should be within everyone's reach.

Remko Hiemstra, the founder of our company, also personally faced lactose intolerance. Realizing that there was still a lot to explore in this field, he decided to start his own path in 2008, based on his personal experience. Since then, we have been developing supplements in easy-to-use tablet, capsule and drop forms that support the body's natural enzyme system. This allows for better digestion of problem foods. The effectiveness of our supplements has been supported by medical tests and they are recommended by professional dietitians.
