This chemical element acts as a powerful drainer of the body.

DESCRIPTION

This chemical element acts as a powerful drainer of the body.

Its draining action consists of the ability to concentrate, mature and neutralize the serum albumin exudations that are produced in inflamed tissues and that are not drained by the lymphatic system.

It stimulates the elimination of urates or toxic waste from connective tissue.

It interacts with blood waste and removes it. In the connective tissue, its alteration in the vessels of the brain leads to apoplexy. The effusion can only be absorbed by the draining action of Si on the brain substance. The alteration of Si in this tissue causes thickening, swelling, tumors, cysts.

Its alteration in the tissues of the brain, nervous system and spinal cord can hinder thinking, memory, neurotransmissions, producing nervous hyper-excitability.

It promotes the assimilation of nutrients and is part of bile, regulating its quality. Skin, nails, teeth and hair.

It acts, together with Calcium, on bones, joints and cartilage. It stimulates the regeneration of collagen and elastin fibres. It favours the elimination of old or inactive Calcium. It acts on the assimilation of Calcium in intestinal mucus and on its fixation in bone tissue, increasing its elasticity and resistance.
