FABRICANTE: LAMBERTS

Candaway® Lamberts is a dietary supplement indicated for the treatment of candidiasis.

DESCRIPTION

Candaway® is an exclusive formula that contains powerful extracts of cinnamon bark combined with olive leaf and oregano, plants traditionally used for the maintenance and balance of the digestive system, and helps in the function of the intestinal tract.

When using herbal extracts in LAMBERTS® formulas, we always make sure that we use the correct parts of the plant. That is why we have included cinnamon bark, as it is in the bark that the active ingredients with the greatest biological activity are found.

The function of the digestive system is to digest food and absorb the nutrients found in it. If this process is not done efficiently, it is unlikely that our health will be in an optimal state, regardless of the quality of our diet.

One of the most important factors determining the health of the digestive system is the balance between friendly and unfriendly bacteria living in the large intestine. And we not only have to deal with hostile bacteria, but also with certain yeasts, in particular the so-called Candida albicans, whose excess causes uncomfortable candidiasis.
