

Cidrelinf is a state-of-the-art concentrated serum that provides comprehensive care for the legs, thanks to its innovative triple action formula: circulatory, draining and lymphatic, which acts on the sensation of heaviness and provides relief, rest, lightness and beauty.

DESCRIPTION

What is Cidrelinf and what is it used for?

Cidrelinf is a serum for the legs. Cidrelinf is used to apply to legs with circulatory, drainage and lymphatic problems.

What is the composition of Cidrelinf?

The composition of Cidrelinf is: Extract of the ginger variety Zinziber Zerumbet Smith, which prevents water retention, provides and improves circulation; butcher's broom, which is vasoconstrictor and antiedematous; bilberry, which strengthens capillary resistance and reduces permeability; red vine, which is venotonic and vasoprotective; horsetail, which is draining and allows the lymphatic absorption of liquids and remineralizing; witch hazel, which is draining, venotonic and vasoconstrictor and menthol, which has a cold effect.

What is Cidrelinf used for?

Cidrelinf is indicated to apply to legs with circulatory problems, drainage and lymphatic problems. It provides a comprehensive benefit, through the attenuation of water retention, the protection of the microvascular environment, limiting the degradation of its circulatory and lymphatic structural elements, and the reduction of inflammation.

How is Cidrelinf used?

Cidrelinf should be applied twice a day on the legs with light massages, preferably ascending, until completely absorbed.

