DESCRIPTION

Immunity400® is an innovative, effective and very high quality food supplement thanks to the selection of its ingredients and their concentration. Immunity400® is a preparation made from authentic Monofloral MGO 400+ Manuka honey from New Zealand as the main ingredient, selected plant extracts, propolis, vitamin C and Zinc. Specially formulated to help and strengthen the respiratory tract, as well as our body's defenses naturally.

Throughout the production process, the integrity of the honey has been preserved, respecting and controlling the working temperature to keep all its properties and benefits intact, especially Methylglyoxal (MGO), the natural active substance present in Manuka honey and main responsible for its antibacterial activity. Immunity400® is recommended in processes that cause alteration of the respiratory tract and/or reduce the body's defenses, such as those typical of the winter season (flu and cold processes), seasonal allergies, environmental factors (weather, pollution, etc.)) and/or changes of season.
