Naturbite's 5HTP is a food supplement that increases mood, appetite, pain control and sleep because 5HTP is a precursor to serotonin, which is an antidepressant.

DESCRIPTION

Naturbite's 5HTP is a food supplement, direct precursor of serotonin, making it ideal for increasing mood, controlling pain, appetite, sleep.

Serotonin is a monoamine neurotransmitter produced endogenously from L-tryptophan and with an important regulatory role in the central nervous system (CNS). It has important implications for sleep, depression, anxiety, aggressiveness, appetite, body temperature, sexual behavior and pain sensation.

The intake of 5-HTP increases serotonin levels in the central nervous system, which is why it helps in the case of mild depression. It has also been observed that 5-HTP, apart from increasing serotonin levels, is capable of increasing melatonin levels, which is why it is the 5-HTP that regulates sleep.
