Guarana from Naturlider favors the elimination of fat accumulated by the body and by stimulating adrenaline, it makes it burn fat faster, ideal for losing weight.

DESCRIPTION

Naturlider Guarana is a food supplement, whose effects are based on the caffeine content of its seeds. Caffeine accelerates combustion and therefore favors the elimination of fats stored by the body. Therefore, it is ideal for losing weight. In addition, the stimulating properties of naturlider guarana are useful to combat physical and intellectual fatigue, frequently associated with weight control diets.

Guarana comes from Paullinia cupana, which is a climbing shrub native to the Amazon. Its seeds, Guarana, are rich in substances such as Caffeine, being the plant with the highest content of this natural stimulant. It also contains tannins, saponins, theophylline and theobromine. Due to this composition, Guarana seeds are used as natural stimulants, increasing mental alertness, wakefulness and promoting a better association of ideas and greater resistance to fatigue.
