Silicolider Naturlider, is a food supplement that, in addition to silicon, provides horsetail. This makes Silicolider from Naturlider contribute to hair care by reinforcing it and preventing it from falling out, helping to strengthen nails. Silicolider improves osteoarticular health by favoring the elasticity of joints and ligaments.

DESCRIPTION

Silicolider from Naturlider is a food supplement, in addition to silicon it has horsetail. Horsetail is a plant whose stems and leaves contain abundant mineral salts. Silicon is a mineral that strengthens hair, prevents hair loss and provides shine, volume and hydration. It also gives strength to the nails, hardening them and preventing them from breaking. Another of its great benefits is in the prevention of diseases such as osteoporosis, arteriosclerosis and atherosclerosis since it is excellent for increasing bone density and promoting the elasticity of ligaments, joints and arteries.

Naturlider's Silicolider is similarly enhanced with Horsetail, a plant well known in traditional medicine for its therapeutic virtues, whose principles give Horsetail the virtue of being remineralizing, diuretic, hemostatic, anti-inflammatory, epidermal restorative.
