DESCRIPTION

What is SopCalm Naturlider and what is it used for?

It is a natural food supplement indicated to treat polycystic ovary syndrome.

What are the ingredients for a capsule of SopCalm Naturlider?

Cimicifuga dry extract (Cimicifuga racemosa, rhizome, 2.5% total triterpene glycosides) 250 mg, bulking agent (potato starch), coating agent (Hydroxypropylmethylcellulose), Zinc Citrate 32.26 mg, purified water, gelling agent (Gellan Gum), Quatrefolic Folate ((6S)-5-methyltetrahydrofolic acid, glucosamine salt) 0.4 mg, Vitamin B6 (Pyridoxine Hydrochloride) 0.25 mg and Vitamin D3 (Cholecalciferol 40,000,000 IU/g) 10 µg (200% NRV).

Does SopCalm Naturlider have interactions, side effects, contraindications?

You should consult your doctor if you are pregnant or breastfeeding.

Due to its content in Cimicifuga it is contraindicated in case you are hypersensitive to the drug.

It is contraindicated in children and adolescents due to its effect on the luteinizing hormone.

Occasionally sweating, dizziness, headache, hypertension or hypotension, increased menstrual flow, changes in heart rate such as palpitations or bradycardia, tachycardia, restlessness and visual disturbances such as blurred vision may be observed.

Administration to patients with impaired liver function is not recommended, and a doctor should be consulted immediately if symptoms suggestive of liver disease appear (tiredness, loss of appetite, jaundice or epigastric pain with vomiting and diarrhea or coluria).

The safety of its use during pregnancy and lactation has not been established.
