Papiloxyl is a food supplement, adjuvant to the immune system, which protects cells against oxidative damage.

DESCRIPTION

PAPILOXYL is a state-of-the-art patented food supplement, the result of several years of research and development. The well-known nutritional components of papiloxyl are vitamins and minerals selected in such a way that they make it an excellent adjuvant for the immune system, normal DNA synthesis and cell protection against oxidative damage. For all these reasons, Papiloxyl is indicated for the prevention of human papillomavirus.
