

Phytostandard Blackcurrant Plantain 30 Tablets

EAN: 3401521255042 FABRICANTE: PILEJE

Black currant and plantain Phytostandard is a food supplement based on phytotherapy, that is, on plants and scientific knowledge. It is considered a powerful natural anti-inflammatory.

DESCRIPTION

What is it and what is Phytostandard of Cassis and plantain from Pileje laboratories used for?

Phytostandard of currant and plantain is a phytotherapeutic food supplement because it uses plants and scientific knowledge. Phytostandard of currant and plantain serves as an anti-inflammatory in rheumatic disease.

What are the benefits of Phytostandard of Cassis and plantain from Pileje laboratories?

The benefits of Phytostandard of black currant and plantain are several: Cassis or Riber nigrum, has diuretic, anti-inflammatory and anti-rheumatic properties, it has a high concentration of antioxidants so it is effective in bacterial infections. The plantain or Plantago lanceolata, relieves the pain of rheumatic disease, accelerates the healing of colds and flu because it improves the functioning of the respiratory tract.

How do you take Phytostandard of Cassis and plantain from Pileje laboratories?

Phytostandard of currant and plantain is taken orally: Take one to four tablets a day with a glass of water, between seven and thirty days, it can be renewed if necessary.

What is the composition of Phytostandard of Cassis and plantain from Pileje laboratories?

The composition of Phytostandard for black currant and plantain is as follows: Black currant (Ribes nigrum L., leaves) and plantain (Plantago lanceolata L. leaves) extracts (support: acacia fiber), bulking agents (calcium phosphates and microcrystalline cellulose), stabilizer (cross-linked sodium carboxymethylcellulose), anti-caking agent (magnesium stearate).

What precautions should I take when taking Phytostandard black currant and plantain?

Excessive consumption of Phytostandard black currant and plantain can have laxative effects.

In our online Parapharmacy you can find this and other products.

