DESCRIPTION

Oleum Derma di Pompeia has regenerative, nourishing, moisturizing, and balsamic properties that are used to care for any type of skin.

Improves the condition and appearance of the skin in cases of dermatitis, eczema, psoriasis, rosacea, cracked skin. It also provides luminosity and softness to the skin of both the body and face, also being a fantastic choice for the prevention and treatment of stretch marks and scars.

It is also recommended for after shaving and waxing, for both men and women.

How is Oleum Derma Di Pompeya used?

It should be applied generously to the area to be treated 2 to 3 times a day, gently massaging with the fingertips until absorbed.

What is the composition of Oleum Derma Di Pompeya?

Contains Rosehip, which is rich in vitamin C and A, and which stimulates the production of elastin, thus reducing wrinkles, scars, stretch marks and skin blemishes.

It contains tea tree oil, which acts against bacteria, fungi and viruses, it is also healing, anti-inflammatory and deodorant. Tea tree oil is effective against vaginal infections caused by candida albicans and trichomonas.

Another of its ingredients is sweet almond oil, which is a lubricant, so it hydrates the skin and prevents the formation of wrinkles, providing elasticity to the skin and preventing the appearance of stretch marks.

Avocado oil stimulates the formation of collagen, is moisturizing and healing.

Calendula is used to improve the texture of dry, cracked, and scaly skin. In turn, it is a builder of healthy tissue.
