

This syrup is made from concentrated papaya juice and a selection of medicinal plants that have cleansing properties.

DESCRIPTION

What is Drena Robis syrup and what is it for?

It is a food supplement made from concentrated papaya extract and a selection of medicinal plants with cleansing, diuretic, draining and decongestant properties, which have been traditionally used for these purposes.

This syrup is an ideal supplement to be used in conjunction with weight control diets, as it helps purify the body and improve the effectiveness of the diet. It also promotes liver function, regulates kidney and digestive activity, helps eliminate fluids and promotes bowel movement, while maintaining proper mineralization of tissues. Thanks to its high papaya content, it is beneficial in the fight against cellulite.

What is the dosage of Drena Robis syrup?

Take 10 ml diluted in a glass of water 3 times a day or 30 ml diluted in 1 liter of water and drink the contents of the mixture throughout the day.

Once opened, consume within a maximum time of 30 days.
