DESCRIPTION

What is Robis Espino Olivo Garlic and what is it for?

It is a food supplement based on garlic, hawthorn and olive, which have multiple benefits for the body's health. Together, these components work to maintain the proper functioning of the cardiovascular system.

Each of these components has anti-inflammatory properties, which makes them useful in cases of arthritis. In addition, they act as antihypertensives, regulating blood pressure and helping to reduce the risk of cardiovascular diseases. Finally, all three components have been shown to help lower bad cholesterol and triglyceride levels, further contributing to cardiovascular health.
