astringent and refreshing; Lotus is used to calm and soothe the skin.

The lotus flower is a complete ingredient with proven action:

- Moisturizing action: Lotus flowers contain sugars. These small or large sugars (oligo or polysaccharides) intervene in skin hydration phenomena.
- Antioxidant action: The lotus flower is known for its protective activity against free radicals. Therefore, it exerts an anti-aging action.
- Unifying and illuminating effect: Sacred lotus reduces the biological mechanism of melanogenesis (the synthesis of melanin, responsible for skin color) in general, even at very low concentrations. This action helps to unify the complexion so that it looks brighter and more radiant.

All these virtues make the lotus flower extract used by SO'BiO étic® an excellent component to combat the first signs of aging.

INNOVATION: SO'BiO étic® patented a complex, composed of lotus flowers, witch hazel and zinc, which constitutes the base of the Pour une peau parfaite line. This complex hydrates and calms the skin, reduces imperfections, tightens pores, smoothes and evens the complexion.

The lotus flower of SO'BiO étic®

The SO'BiO étic® Research and Development Department selected lotus flowers grown in the Hoa Binh region of Vietnam, according to principles that respect the plant, the environment and European regulations relating to organic farming. The flowers are harvested by hand and the flowers are dried naturally in the sun.
