An innovative product that has been specially designed for women over 45 years of age who are looking for support in the phase of life leading up to menopause.

DESCRIPTION

Combines scientifically studied plant-based ingredients, Siberian rhubarb (ERr-731®) and saffron (affron®).

Solgar® MenoPrime is an innovative product that has been specially designed for women over 45 years of age who are looking for support in the life phase leading up to menopause. It combines scientifically studied plant-based ingredients, Siberian rhubarb (ERr-731®) and saffron (affron®).

Saffron, known for its culinary culture in the Mediterranean diet, is a spice derived from the striking crimson stigmas of the flowers of Crocus sativus. It is considered the most expensive spice in the world by weight. It is estimated that 200,000 saffron stigmas, hand-picked from 70,000 crocus flowers, are needed to produce 0.45 kg of saffron.

Affron® is a premium standardized saffron extract, manufactured in Spain, with 9 clinical studies that support its ability to support a positive mood, relaxation and emotional balance by reducing irritability.

MenoPrime also contains patented Siberian rhubarb (ERr-731®), a standardized Rheum rhaponticum extract, which provides rhaponticin and deoxyrhaponticin. Siberian rhubarb has been used by middle-aged women for decades for its properties.

Up to 85% of menopausal women experience associated symptoms and discomfort, and many of them seek to support this transition with phytotherapy.
