DESCRIPTION

What is Pure Natural Betacarotene from Tongil used for?

Beta-Carotene is a powerful antioxidant that protects the body from aging and prevents tissue degeneration. It protects collagen stability and enhances and maintains the skin's tan.

Vitamin A and Carotenoids protect the skin and eyes during prolonged sun exposure, prevent and improve degenerative processes that affect vision, contribute to the repair of tissues and gastric ulcers, prevent tumors in the skin, lungs, urinary bladder, colon and breast, are useful for the prevention and treatment of infectious diseases and intervene in the regulation of the inflammatory immune response in combination with vitamin D and Omega-3 Fatty Acids.

Beta-carotene is a precursor of vitamin A and acts as an antioxidant nutrient. They are the only carotenoids that are transformed into appreciable amounts of vitamin A, but only as the body needs it. Vitamin A is necessary for the formation and health of the skin and mucous membranes, for bone growth and for the development of teeth. It also intervenes in the production of hormones of both sexes and in a correct state of the uterus. The importance of vitamin A for correct vision is well known, especially in low light or dark situations, but in recent years the carotenoids Lutein and Zeaxanthin have also gained great importance in the field of eye health due to their effectiveness as ocular antioxidants.

What does Pure Natural Betacarotene from Tongil contain?

Mixture of natural carotenoids extracted from the algae Dunaliella salina, source of natural beta-carotenes, precursors of vitamin A.
