DESCRIPTION

What is Hyaluronic Acid from Vitobest® and what is it for?

Hyaluronic Acid , from Vitobest® , is the supplement that will help you maintain the proper functioning of your joints and keep your skin, cartilage and other tissues healthy.

Hyaluronic acid is a biomolecule naturally present abundantly in the tissues and fluids of our body, presenting the highest concentrations in the skin and cartilage.

It has the ability to stimulate the extracellular matrix of tissues, contributing to regeneration and repair .

It is an essential element in joint health due to its regenerative capacity of cartilage and bone.

Hyaluronic acid is the main component of synovial fluid, which nourishes and lubricates the joints 98% .

It constitutes a natural lubricant of great help to highly efficiently lubricate and nourish the cartilage between our bones, improving its functionality, and contributing to its recovery. Due to this capacity (lubricant and nutrient) it is used with marked success in orthopedic reconstructive surgeries (especially to improve the health of the knees) and as a complement to the medical treatment of patients with osteoarthritis (it helps mitigate joint pain and improve their physical functionality).

Hyaluronic Acid , from Vitobest® , is enriched with 200 mg of OptiMSM® (Methyl-Sulfonyl-Methane) per capsule, which provides sulfur and is proven to contribute to joint health and tissue recovery .

Benefits of hyaluronic acid:

- It helps to recover damaged cartilage by acting on the extracellular matrix of the cartilage.
- It is an organic source of combined sulfur that acts directly in the manufacture of collagen fibers, helping to recover tissues.
