Way diet manufactures a wide range of food supplements, all of them formulated and developed according to pharmaceutical standards. Through careful formulations and excellent quality raw materials, they offer us effective, safe and natural food supplements.

DESCRIPTION

The principles of Way Diet are to maintain effective and stable concentrations of active ingredients, adjust treatment safely and effectively, improve tolerance and reduce side effects.

Way Diet manufactures a wide range of products ranging from nutricosmetics, microgranules, the Swedish range, the yemiprop range, the yemicomplex range and other food supplements.

The vast majority of eWay diet products are formulated in microgranules applied to medicinal plants (Phytogranules) to trace elements (Oligogranules) and various formulas combining plants, minerals, probiotics, fungi, etc.

What do the MICROGRANULES provide?

Greater availability:

The capsule reaches the stomach and the microgranules spread out, reducing possible irritations and increasing the absorption surface, guaranteeing optimal bioavailability.

The galenic innovation of the Microgranules allows an availability of the active components 35% higher than that of a conventional galenic (powder capsules, tablets,...).
