DESCRIPTION

What is Baby Calendula Oil used for?

This product is a gentle and completely natural body care, made with certified organic sweet almond, calendula and chamomile oil. It is ideal for the daily care and massage of the baby, and is especially recommended after bathing to prevent drying of the skin and keep it soft. During the massage, the oil creates a light protective layer around the baby, which helps to maintain its body temperature and strengthens the natural protective functions of its skin.

What are the benefits of Baby Calendula Oil?

This product keeps the skin moisturized, and protects against external elements and heat loss, especially after bathing. It also stimulates skin cell activity.
